with Gabriele Boccaccini, Amy-Jill Levine, and John Collins

Secretary: Joshua Scott

The study of Second Temple Jewish history, practice, and belief is a global enterprise. The Frankel Institute for Advanced Studies and the Enoch Seminar have invited 44 scholars from across the globe to present their work and engage in a conversation about the present status and the future prospects of the field. Specialists and students in Biblical Studies, Judaic Studies, Classics, and Christian Origins are invited to attend.
