

A path towards integration for French Jews in the 'Grande Nation'?

The first participation of Jewish citizens in the popular jury (1792-1814)

Lecture by Prof Emanuel Berger

Emmanuel Berger is a professor of legal history at the Federal University of Paraíba (Brazil). His published works include Popular Justice in Europe (18th-19th Centuries) (with Emilie Delivré and Martin Löhnig, 2014); "Police and Public Order in France and England (1750-1850)" (co-edited with Clive Emsley, 2016); and "Popular Protest and Violence in 19 Century Europe. Perspectives from Current Historiography", (with Heinz-Gerhard Haupt, 2013).

Thursday, 9 January 2020 at 16:00
Sonia and Eduard Kossoy Conference Room (307)
Trubowicz Building, Buchmann Faculty of Law

Event number: 1160733 RSVP: Berg@post.tau.ac.il
For parking on campus, please show this invitation at the university gate