

Call for Papers

The Third Graduate Students Conference in Halachic and Talmudic Studies

אמר להו רב חסדא לרבנן: בעינא דאימא לכו מלתא, ומסתפינא דשבקיתו לי ואזליתו: כל הלומד
תורה מרב אחד - אינו רואה סימן ברכה לעולם (עבודה זרה יט ע"א)

We are pleased to announce a call for papers for the third graduate students conference in the field of halachic and Talmudic studies.

Students are encouraged to send proposals for consideration, to share and present the fruits of their research at the conference to be held, via zoom, on Sunday, March 14, 2021.

The conference is intended for advanced graduate students from all universities in Israel and abroad, in research fields related to the study of Talmudic and Halachic literature.

The conference will be conducted in the form of a workshop: the papers will be pre-circulated to the selected senior scholars who will serve as respondents. During the conference, the papers will be presented followed by the official response of the respondent.

Students interested in participating will send a one-page description of their research to the email addresses indicated below by 15.1.21. Please also indicate the university, department, and the name of the PhD adviser.

Prof. Michal Bar-Asher Siegal, Jewish Thought, Ben Gurion University
bsmichal@bgu.ac.il

Dr. Binyamin Katzoff, Talmud, Bar-Ilan University
Binyamin.Katzoff@biu.ac.il